

EAGLE Homeschool Behavior and Dress Standards

Eagle leadership has developed these standards as guidelines to follow during Eagle activities and events. These rules are not all-inclusive, for it is virtually impossible to address every detail and aspect thereof since there are many different convictions concerning these topics. In instances where rules do not expressly state a given situation, “appropriate” dress will be at the discretion of the event organizer or the Eagle president. Anyone not attired appropriately or exhibiting inappropriate behavior that is detrimental or distracting will be asked to leave the event until attire or behavior is corrected. Any fees paid for event will be forfeited.

1. As a matter of personal pride, Eagle members should maintain high standards of neatness and appropriateness of dress, appearance, and behavior. Dress and conduct yourselves in a way that reflects Christ and honors Him.
2. Hair and body should be clean and neat in appearance without obnoxious odors. Picks, combs, rollers, extreme color, and vision obstructing hair are not permitted.

7. Shoes or sandals shall be worn. House shoes and cleats are inappropriate. Lace and tie shoes as they should be. Also, fasteners and buckles should be worn as they were designed with an appropriate article of clothing.
